

PET Stream

The PET stream is a complex chain that is influenced by refining, olefins and aromatics. Understanding all these aspects and having the latest information is extremely important for making the right decisions. Furthermore, the complexity of this chain is magnified by the notion that all these products are very global in nature and having access to global information and consultants is a valuable investment in one's business.

The diversity of elements in this industry, such as contract pricing versus spot pricing, reduced production versus export sales and inventory build versus price risk, present difficult choices for companies involved in managing the chain's production, buying and investment.

The capability to completely understand the PET stream and to reliably forecast these markets requires the focused efforts of experienced personnel gathering and analyzing information. By dedicating a team of consultants from all our global offices to study and analyze the global PET chain, CMAI offers the industry's most comprehensive package of analysis, interpretation and forecasting the PET supply chain from paraxylene and monoethylene glycol through terephthalic acid and PET on a global basis.

For three decades, CMAI has been the premier provider of Market, Planning and Business Advisory Services offering a unique combination of consulting analytics and expertise for the global chemical, plastics, fibers and chlor-alkali industries. CMAI brings a staff of professionals with experience in marketing, purchasing, production, R&D, technical service, commercial development, and market research. CMAI has combined this expertise with the most sophisticated database technology available for obtaining and disseminating information on the global chemical industries. Through continual, one-on-one contact with significant industry sources, CMAI consultants gather and study data specific to the industry, then analyze and translate it into useful information and forecasting advice for clients.

If what you know does not equal what you need to know about the complex PET Stream market, then CMAI's PET Stream Market Advisory Service will help you balance your information equation!
